

FOREWORD

The West Point Parents Club (WPPC) of Maryland, Washington DC, and Virginia (MD-DC-VA) has compiled and revised this handbook over the course of several years. It is the summation of the experience gained by other parents, like yourselves, who have gone through the journey upon which you are just embarking.

Contrary to the stereotype, West Point is not a static institution. Its leadership, both the active duty staff and the cadet staff, is continuously evaluating itself and adjusting to changes in the Army, leadership methods, and to society and the world in general. As a result, the West Point a Firstie is graduating from is different from the West Point to which they first reported as a New Cadet. Similarly, when your cadet graduates, West Point will be different from when they entered.

In light of the above, you should understand this handbook is not so much a roadmap as it is a guide. As you, the parent, grow with your cadet, its value to you will change. Section I is an extensive description of your cadet's first year. The information ranges from getting ready to report to West Point on Reception Day, to getting to West Point, all the way through their first summer to Acceptance Day. It then lays out the academic year with the various events that occur each year. Finally, some general information is given. Section II provides general information about West Point, such as phone numbers and on post facilities, as well as the area around West Point. This section will be immediately useful to you and will continue to be useful even when you're the parent of a Firstie. It is under constant revision and will require your input to make it valuable in the years to come. If you find a great place not on the list or if a place on the list is closed – please let the club president know so that appropriate changes can be made to the next edition. Section III contains our club information and calendars that change regularly, such as the WPPC MD-DC-VA Board, the football schedule, and the academic and activity calendar.

As was noted above, this handbook is a guide and supplements information received from official West Point sources. Dates, events, activities are subject to, and will, change at any time.

West Point Parents Club of Maryland, Washington D.C. and Virginia President's Welcome

On behalf of all the parents in the West Point Parent's Club of Maryland, DC, and Virginia, congratulations on having a son or daughter admitted for membership in the "Long Gray Line" – an admired part of America's history since 1802. It is quite an achievement and is testimony to your child's exceptional potential for service to our country. You have every right to be proud and, as parents of fellow cadets, we share in every lump in the throat and quickened heartbeat.

We hope this handbook will help ready you for the next four years and increase your understanding and enjoyment of each element of cadet life. As parents of future members of the "Long Gray Line," we have gone before you and we remember the confusion, joy, pride, and, yes, tears that we have shed at various times during our child's years at the academy. We stand ready to mentor and support you as you, in turn, support your son or daughter.

This handbook will not tell you the entire story – what could? It will give you an extraordinary amount of information gathered from the collective wisdom of the parents in our club – the largest West Point Parents' Club in the country. Use this handbook, write notes in the margin, ask questions, and, best yet, get involved. Come join us as we wait for our cadets to get off the bus at Thanksgiving, hand out hot soup at the many tailgates we sponsor for cadets, party after the Army-Navy game, and dance the night away at the Joint Service Academy Ball. Laugh and joke with us as we scramble over each other while we pack more than 100 boxes of "boodle" for the Corps. Come sing "On Brave Old Army Team" when our cadets are competing against Navy! Get involved! This club is only as good as the members who carry on its many fine traditions – just as your son or daughter is carrying on the traditions of West Point.

Do not hesitate to call any Executive Board member with questions or comments. Our home phone numbers and e-mail addresses are in this handbook. Each of us stands ready to lend a helping hand and provide information by phone or e-mail. We look forward to meeting each of you and to your joining in our cry – Go Army!! Beat Navy!!!

Section I – New Cadet Information

Before Leaving for Reception Day (R-day)

Your cadet has received stacks of paper from West Point with so many instructions it is mind boggling! To be sure you are prepared. Read everything sent to you again, and again! Follow the suggestions they make because they are given for a reason – to help your cadet candidate succeed.

Purchase the items needed for R-Day. Shoes and boots should be purchased well enough in advance so they can be broken in. The military dress shoe, also known as low quarters, and combat boots are for sale at any Military Clothing Sales Store (MCSS) on any military installation – if the correct size is in stock. Look in the government section of your phone book to locate a military base near you. You should be able to gain access to a military installation and its MCSS with your New Cadet's Acceptance Letter. If you do not have access to a MCSS on a military installation, you can find shoes and boots on the web at many sites including www.uscav.com and www.actiongear.com.

Travel light - one bag. Bringing one bag means the candidate will need to fill out only one bag tag (the first trying test under control of the upper-class cadre on R-Day). Candidates needing to bring other items like sports equipment for team practices can usually work out to drop off those golf clubs, lacrosse sticks, and tennis racquets early with the coach. Check the "Instructions for Candidates" for definitive instructions for this year on what to bring, other required items and restrictions. In years past the candidate needed to take most of the following items (the remaining ones are suggestions):

- Black leather shoes with laces – WELL BROKEN IN and highly polished. Note: New Cadets and Plebes are not allowed to wear the highly shined Corfam shoes that are available at the MCSS.
- A pair of BROKEN IN running shoes.
- Razor - safety razor with shaving cream or electric/battery operated
- Wrist Watch – sturdy, inexpensive, a waterproof one with an alarm and lighted dial is suggested
- One 8x10 picture in a frame OR an 8x10 collage works well
- Alarm clock - battery operated
- Sports Bras (female candidates) – clasp bras tend to fall apart
- Small penlight (mini-mag) flashlight with extra batteries
- Nail clipper or small key chain type pen knife (a Leatherman-type multi-purpose fold up tool works well) - to remove threads from uniforms
- Small lint-free cloths/rags for shining shoes (old undershirts)
- Small address book – completely filled out including important dates
- Stamps and supply of self addressed stamped envelopes and stationery
- Bic-type lighter
- Chap stick
- Band-Aids and moleskin
- Gold Bond medicated foot powder
- White crew socks (no logos, stripes or colors) – since you may need more than are issued
- Toothbrush - if you like a particular brand

Your candidate may want to consider getting a haircut before R-Day but men should not get a "buzz." That will come. Getting a haircut from their home stylist is especially important for the females, and will help relieve some of the "shock" on R-Day. Females will be given the opportunity on R-Day to donate hair if it's over a certain length to an organization called "Locks of Love" that uses the hair to make wigs for cancer patients. The option is always for females to keep whatever length they want as long as they can keep it up above the collar.

Convince your candidate to RUN, RUN, RUN and then to RUN some more.

Cadet Transportation

Your cadet's cost of transportation to West Point for R-Day will be reimbursed by the Academy. Save the receipts and be sure to record your mileage. Your cadet will need the receipts when he/she submits forms for reimbursement.

On holidays and semester breaks, our Parents Club charters buses to transport Club member cadets (and their friends) to and from West Point and our area, if there is sufficient interest. The times are Labor Day Weekend, Columbus Day Weekend, Thanksgiving Leave, Christmas Leave, President's Day Weekend, Spring Break, and Graduation day. The pick up point is at the Clinton Field parking lot. The buses make four stops to discharge passengers at the Baltimore Travel Plaza; the Laurel, MD, Rest Area on I-95; the Springfield, VA, Hilton Hotel; and Fredericksburg, VA at the Spotsylvania Mall. Information about upcoming buses is disseminated in the Parents Club Newsletter, on our web page, and over our listserv. Your email address is necessary for you to become a member of the listserv.

Plebes have little free time, so it is often easier for parents to make flight reservations if they are necessary. Allow at least two hours for travel between West Point and Kennedy, LaGuardia, or Newark airports. The closest airport in Newburgh (Hudson Valley International Airport – formerly Stewart Airport) is about 45 minutes away. Select the flight times which give you the best flexibility and satisfaction. Be aware that the leave schedules are subject to change and may not be known until inside the two week airlines reservation window.

Remind your cadet to always have his or her TAC Officer's phone number with them later in the year so they can call in the case of a delayed return.

Driving to West Point

If the route you take to West Point follows toll roads along the Northeast corridor, it is worth looking into obtaining an EZPass. The little box placed on the windshield of the car allows the car to drive through EZPass lanes without stopping, thereby saving a significant amount of time, and often saves some on the toll when the EZPass rate is less than the regular toll. This is true for the Delaware Toll Road and the New Jersey Turnpike. Your EZPass account will automatically deduct an amount designated by you (like $25.00) from a credit card when your balance falls below $10.00. Bi-monthly statements can be sent reflecting the activity on the account. Call 1-888-AUTO-TOLL (1-888-288-6865) or visit their web address: www.EZPass.com. In addition to the toll roads mentioned above, the EZPass also works at the Ft McHenry and I-895 tunnel tolls in Baltimore, the Susquehanna River Bridge on I-95N, the Delaware Memorial Bridge on I-95S, the Garden State Parkway, and all the toll roads in New York City and State. The EZPass also works on the Dulles Toll Road.

To West Point via I-95, the New Jersey Turnpike and Palisades Parkway:

- Go North on I-95 through Maryland and into Delaware
- After you pass the rest area on the Delaware Turnpike, watch for signs for I-295 North and the Delaware Memorial Bridge. Keep to the right for the Bridge.
- After crossing Delaware Memorial Bridge, follow signs for the New Jersey Turnpike, get a ticket (if no EZPass) and continue north. (Gas in New Jersey is much more reasonable than New York, most of Maryland, and Northern Virginia, so fill up in New Jersey.) (There is no self-serve gas in New Jersey.)
- Go to the last exit (after paying the toll) and follow the signs toward the George Washington Bridge but stay in the local lanes as you will exit just before the GW Bridge to get on the Palisades Parkway. Watch carefully for the exit sign for the Palisades Parkway, because it's the last exit before the GW Bridge. You will drive on surface streets on US 9W north for approximately 1 mile to connect to the Parkway.
- Go north on the Palisades Parkway to Bear Mountain Circle. Go 3/4 of the way around the circle to pick up 9W north toward Highland Falls and West Point. Go north on 9W approximately 2.7 miles and exit at State Route 218, Main Street, Highland Falls. Follow the signs to the West Point main gate.

To West Point via I-95, the New Jersey Turnpike, I-80, the Garden State Parkway, I-287 and Palisades Parkway:

This can be a good route if heavy traffic for the George Washington Bridge is anticipated, which can tie up traffic before you reach your exit toward the Palisades Parkway.

- Follow the directions above to the NJ Turnpike
- When the NJ Turnpike divides follow the signs to I-80. After paying the toll, follow signs to I-80.
- Take I-80 for several miles to the exit to the Garden State Parkway North (There will be a toll right away and then one later on; each 35 cents)
- Take I-287 east for a couple of miles.
- Take the Palisades Parkway north. Continue with the directions as listed above.

Part 1 – The First Summer

Reception Day (R-Day)

This day marks the beginning of a unique experience for both you and your cadet candidate. We strongly suggest that you accompany your cadet candidate to West Point for R-Day. It helps to be able to picture where they are going to be for the next four years and what they are going to experience for the next few weeks. We also suggest as many family members as feasible accompany you for this particular day. If elderly relatives attend, it may be a grueling day because of the heat and the amount of walking, which is mostly uphill. Wear comfortable, tasteful clothes and comfortable shoes. Some parents wear the ‘Class’ tee-shirt that is available at the Visitor’s Center Gift Shop and in Eisenhower Hall. Buying a shirt and possibly a ‘Class’ tote bag the day before R-Day is recommended since it will not be easy to get to the Visitor’s Center during R-Day and the stock at ‘Ike Hall’ may sell out. If you decide you want a Class tee shirt or tote bag after they are sold out, don’t despair! They can be ordered at either site and delivered to your home.

This is a day filled with many emotions and every emotion you experience is normal and natural. Your New Cadet Candidate (NCC or ‘Candidate’) will be given a designated time to report. When you plan your day, we suggest that you arrive at West Point early to allow time for the Military Police to direct you to the parking areas. Take everything with you that you will need for the rest of the day - you won’t get back to your car until after the R-Day Parade. Be sure to bring a pen and a small notebook to jot down information and important dates (such as the date your new cadet can begin receiving boodle (goodies)!). Take binoculars, cameras, video cameras and protection in case of inclement weather. The West Point weather changes frequently. A sunny morning can still have a rainy afternoon parade. From the parking area shuttle buses will take you to Eisenhower Hall. Parking will not be allowed at Eisenhower Hall. Be sure to say all of your good-byes before you get to Eisenhower Hall because you only get 90 seconds for a quick hug after the brief greetings by the officer of the day.

TIP: Bring a still camera, video camera, binoculars or all three. You’ll want to capture the day on film and so much will be happening you won’t be able to remember it all without pictures. But remember all the new cadets will look alike. They are not easy to identify because of the newly acquired short hair and identical uniforms – not to mention the fact they won’t have any facial expressions.

After saying your good byes to your new cadet, you will be told where to go to get their mailing address and Beast Company assignment. The Parents Club will have a table upstairs in the Eisenhower Hall ballroom and representatives will be available to answer questions. In the ballroom you will also have the opportunity to sign up for lunch tickets at one of the sites on post, buy football tickets, and buy ‘Class’ and other souvenirs including the Class tee-shirt and tote bag. You will have time to walk around the Plain (the grass field between Washington Hall barracks and the parade bleachers), Trophy Point, and Thayer pedestrian walk. You will not be allowed in the Cadet Area demarcated by signs and chains. Also, the grass on the Plain, in front of the bleachers, is off limits to pedestrian traffic as is the ‘apron’ (the concrete directly against Washington Hall). There will be some locations near the central area where you can observe the New Cadets being instructed by the cadre, but even if you are close enough to talk to your New Cadet, don’t. Much of the inprocessing occurs in Thayer Hall. After a few hours (if things are going well) the New Cadets will be guided by a Yearling from their Beast Company from Thayer Hall across Thayer Walk to the cadet area for the haircut and company inprocessing, room assignments, lunch and marching instruction. Note: When they enter Thayer Hall your sons and daughters are called ‘Candidate.’ In Thayer Hall one of the first things they do is sign the oath of service, the same oath that they will formally state out loud at the afternoon parade. Once they sign the Oath they will be called ‘New Cadets’ (a form of address they will grow to hate). Only after they complete Cadet Basic Training (CBT, ‘Beast Barracks’) and are accepted into the Corps of Cadets at the Acceptance Day Parade in August will they become ‘Cadets.’

TIP: It is a good idea to take a few hours before R-Day to watch a video from behind the scenes at R-Day from the Candidate/New Cadet perspective (backstage at Ike Hall, on the bus to Thayer Hall, inside Thayer Hall, inside the barber shop, and more). The streaming video can be found at www.virtualwp.org. From that web site, click on the aerial view of West Point to enter the site then scroll down the left side to find the R-Day video. It may not be a bad idea to take notes of the ‘4 responses,’ the way to report to the cadet in the Red Sash, and the way to report to the 1st Sergeant (much easier to memorize without the stress of R-Day).

There are several tours and seminars scheduled for parents. We strongly suggest you attend them. In addition to being very interesting, there is important information given out that will help you better understand what your candidate will be going through. They often show pictures of the different activities your cadets are experiencing on R-Day and you will learn more about West Point, the Academy, and all the rich traditions surrounding this historic area.

At 5:00 to 6:00PM (you will be given a "firm" time - depending, of course, on the weather) there is a "Parade of New Cadets" from the apron in front of Washington Hall past the Superintendent's Quarters and down the road stopping at Trophy Point for the swearing-in ceremony. This swearing-in ceremony formally ends R-Day (at least for the parents!). If the swearing-in ceremony will be held at Trophy Point, it is a good idea to get to the roadside to save an area about an hour before the parade. It quickly gets very crowded. Along the road will be markers designating where the different Beast Companies will assemble for the formal swearing in. This should help you to locate your son or daughter.

Remember that the new cadets will all look alike. They are not easy to identify because all have the same haircut, uniform and no expression. They will be lined up by height, front to rear of each company. Listen to the announcements during the parade so you know when to stand at various stages of this ceremony.

TIP: Mail from home is extremely important. You can obtain their P.O. Box number in the Ike Hall Lobby on R-Day. Write a letter to your son or daughter right then and there, apply postage and hand it to the Postal Employees who are also available in the Ike Hall lobby. Make sure you address it exactly as it is given to you! Your new cadet will be so glad to be among the first to receive mail. To facilitate friends and relatives sending mail, make out post cards, stamped envelopes, or pre-printed labels with your new cadet's address to hand out to his or her closest friends and relatives. Also give your new cadet an address book with family and friend's addresses, important dates (birthday's anniversary's, etc.), lots of stamps, envelopes and writing paper as they may not have time to buy these. However, don't expect a lot of mail in return. You will get one letter early on that the Cadet Squad Leader will ensure is written!

Your new cadet will not be able to call you right away (it may be a couple of weeks near the mid-point of their training) and even then the time is strictly limited. New cadets receive limited and timed phone privileges during Cadet Basic Training, and the calls can come at anytime. If you do not have a speakerphone, answering machine or call waiting, now may be a good time to invest in them. You may want to get a cassette recorder and microphone that will record from your telephone. This will allow you to tape your new cadet's phone calls and play them back for anyone who was not at home when he/she called. These recorded tapes are also priceless memories. During the few weeks immediately after R-Day, your support, understanding, and listening are the most important things you can give your new cadet. Encourage them to take things one day at a time and let them know you are there for them.

Cadet Basic Training (CBT)

"Duty-Honor-Country - Those three hallowed words reverently dictate what you ought to be, what you can be, what you will be. They are your rallying points, to build courage when courage seems to fail, to regain faith when there seems to be little cause for faith, to create hope when hope becomes forlorn." General Douglas MacArthur, excerpt from his Farewell Address delivered to the Corps of Cadets on 12 May 1962.

R-Day is the first day of Beast Barracks, as Cadet Basic Training is affectionately called! Some New Cadets will actually enjoy the adventures and challenges it brings. But not all new cadets will enjoy it! It's a time when a group of high school graduates become soldiers and are prepared to enter the Corps as West Point Cadets.

A New Cadet's daily life begins before 6:00 am and during Beast Barracks will extend into the evening hours. In addition to extensive military training including military courtesy, marching and the handling of firearms - the new cadet will be schooled in the traditions of West Point and will learn what it takes "to make it." This is a particularly difficult adjustment period for the new cadet. His or her lifestyle will undergo a complete change when they are totally immersed in a military setting. Stress is a major part of the program along with the ability to memorize data, learn military drill, courtesy and the "West Point Way." It is a time when all are in need of encouragement and support. You may hear a lot of negative reaction on the part of your New Cadet - insist that they hang in there to give themselves a fair trial. Staying power and the ability to perform well under stress is the hallmark of a West Pointer.

TIP: Beast Barracks is probably the hardest time emotionally, physically, and psychologically your new cadet will ever experience while at West Point. During this time, be supportive, positive, understanding and upbeat. Being a good listener for your son or daughter is most helpful during this period but remember - you can't fix it for them!

For the first few weeks of Beast, new cadets will be very, very busy. The concept of one-day-at-a-time will help them through this initial experience and adjustment. Sometime during the first week or 10 days, each new cadet will be allowed to make a short, timed and supervised phone call to home. This call can come at any time so an answering machine comes in handy. However, if they do not make direct contact with you, they will be allowed to call until they get through to you.

The last week of Beast is spent at Camp Buckner, a military camp on the West Point reservation, where the new cadets will bivouac (camp out), learn military skills, have a variety/skit night and select their class motto. Their class motto will be proudly displayed during the March Back to the main post. The March Back from Buckner begins during the night. Typically, it is scheduled on a Sunday evening with the arrival on post on Monday morning (see club calendar). The companies take a short break for drinks and a snack at the base of the ski hill on the West Point main post, and then the companies marched in one at a time beginning about 8:00 a.m. The lead company is the "Honor Company" followed by the remainder of the class in alphabetical order by company. The Military Academy Band and the Army mules accompany them for the last two miles as they wind through West Point with the community lining both sides of Washington Road in an inspiring show of patriotism to welcome the class of proud New Cadets. We suggest that you try to go to West Point to watch the March Back.

TIP: Take your cameras along (a constant reminder!) and get pictures because, tired as they are, the new cadets feel the best they have felt since R-Day.

While they are marching, it is very difficult to recognize your New Cadet. So that they can see you, make up several signs welcoming them back to "The Point." The emotional lift that you will give not only your cadet, but also those new cadets who won't have family members present, cannot be expressed in words. Be sure not to use your new cadet's name, as they prefer to be invisible and have no attention drawn to them. The March Back culminates in a Pass-in-Review at the Superintendent's Quarters. Weather permitting, they all sit out on the Apron for a package breakfast.

Reorganization Week (Reorgy Week)

Reorganization Week, commonly called "REORGY Week," is not considered a fun time by most new cadets. It is probably not the worst time they will experience, but it may come close! It comes just as the newest cadets are feeling happy and proud that they survived "Beast" and are looking forward to being cadets in the fullest sense. However, during this same week, the rest of the upperclassmen are returning from their various summer activities and have nothing better to do than to keep new cadets fully occupied. It lasts less than a week, but it really dramatizes the fact that there are now almost three upperclassmen for every new cadet.

During this week, each new cadet will move in with new roommate(s) from their class and become part of one of the 32 companies that make up the Corps. Each company is made up of cadets from all the classes. The upperclassmen have leadership roles. The Yearlings (sophomores) will be team leaders, that is, they are responsible for the care and training of one or two Plebes. The team leader will take their Plebes to pickup their computers, books, etc. The Cows (juniors) are the company NCOs (non-commissioned officers) and the Firsties (seniors) are the company officers. This company will be their family for the next year. In addition, they will receive their first homework assignment BEFORE the first day of class, on Monday of the following week. Such is the Thayer method of teaching.

Acceptance Day

TIP: Make your reservations early for a motel during your Acceptance Day visit. If you don't, you will not be able to get a room close to West Point.

Summer training for all classes officially culminates with the Acceptance Parade (an impressive ceremony) on the Saturday ending Reorgy Week, at approximately 10:00 a.m. (the parade time is subject to change - check with your new cadet prior to the day). It is at this ceremony that the new cadets, soon to be Plebes, are allowed to wear their white hats for the first time, a traditional symbol of being accepted into the Corps of Cadets. They are no longer "New Cadets." This is one of only four parades that are totally dedicated to a particular class during the entire West Point experience (R-Day, Plebe Parent Weekend Review, and Graduation are the others).

The new cadets march out and line up in front of the bleachers facing the Plain while the rest of the Corps of Cadets marches out and line up on the far side of the Plain facing the bleachers. After the new cadets are accepted into the Corps, they march across the Plain to join their academic companies (different from their Beast Companies). The Corps of Cadets are organized into four regiments (1, 2, 3, 4). Each regiment consists of two battalions and each battalion has four companies. The First Battalion is comprised of companies A, B, C and D. The Second Battalion is comprised of companies E, F, G and H. As you sit in the bleachers facing Washington Hall, the First Regiment is to your left, the Second and Third Regiments are in the middle and the Fourth Regiment is to your right. At the Corps level, the smallest organizational unit is the company. The unit's designation is by company and regiment. For example, if your cadet were in company G2, that means that he/she is in the Second Regiment, company G. To find their company at the beginning of the Acceptance Day parade, they would be third section back, just left of center, in the formation.

BLEACHER LOCATION

Following the Acceptance Parade will be the first time that you will be able to visit with your cadet since R-Day. The cadets will return to the barracks following the parade. After they have completed their duties and are released by their company, they are free to visit family and friends. The times they are released can vary greatly by company. Do not be worried if you see many cadets long before yours arrives. Many families plan picnics on the grounds of West Point within walking distance of the barracks. If you do not want to wait, possibly hours, for your cadet at one of the statues, arrange ahead of time where your picnic will be set up so your cadet can meet you there.

TIP: Here's a good one! If you want to prepare yourself for waiting for your cadet, go to your local hardware store and buy a 4' section of steel pipe (about 4" in diameter). Install it somewhere in your yard as you would a fence railing. Practice sitting on the rail for about 30 minutes to an hour each day. Doing this will condition your "tush" to the many times you will wait for your cadet over the next four years!!

Boodle is allowed once they become cadets. Consider either bringing a plastic container or shop in Highland Falls or at the Post Exchange for a container to act as the "boodle box." Your cadet may also want to shop for cleaning supplies - a bucket, Swifter cloths, etc.

Keep in mind that your cadet cannot be out of uniform at any time while in public. Plebes will likely be allowed to visit with their parents in their motel room if the motel is within the "Walking Privileges" boundaries. "Walking Privileges" are the limits your cadet is allowed to venture "off post," whether they're walking or riding and have been known to change almost yearly. The eastern boundary of the "Walking Privilege" area is the east bank of the Hudson and the area extends west to the businesses that have an address on the west side of Route 9W. The Bear Mountain traffic circle, including Bear Mountain Inn and the park that is adjacent to it is the southern boundary and the Washington Gate defines the north. While in your motel rooms (out of sight of the general public), your cadet will have the opportunity to get out of their uniform and slip into something comfortable, provided they do not venture outside in anything except their uniform.

Do not be surprised if your cadet is torn between having you stay late on Sunday afternoon of Acceptance Day weekend or asking you to leave early. They know they are responsible for the homework required for the first day of class the very next day. As parents, you may be reluctant to have the weekend end, but the cadet has work to do.

Part II - The Academic Year

The Academic year commences immediately after REORGY week. Classes usually have less than fifteen students and are very challenging, even to the brightest students. Encourage your Plebe not to neglect his/her academics. It is 60% of their class rank (the other components are Military - 25% and Physical - 15%). The Academy, while educating the whole person, stresses "academics." Your Plebe is well advised to study hard and develop good study habits. One of the most important lessons to be learned is "time management." The Academy offers a short course on this subject for Plebes. Encourage your cadet to sign up. This is when your cadet learns the most efficient way to MANAGE THEIR TIME. Homework is done before the class, not after. The cadet should be prepared BEFORE the first day and BEFORE every class. There is a minimum Grade Point Average (GPA) that must be maintained throughout your cadet's time at the Academy.

Classes introduce a new type of stress. The Thayer method of instruction is study and application first with explanation later. This is a unique approach that usually creates frustration until your cadet adjusts. The top high school honor student who has never had a grade below a "B" may now fail their first two quizzes or PR's (Partial Reviews). This is normal and not cause to panic. On top of the new academic strain, there is also Plebe duties – company jobs, room management and personal military inspections. Upperclassmen are also "helpful" in reinforcing everything and then some.

Sunday is a day of relaxation, unless the Plebe has a specific duty. They are free to sleep late, attend church if they wish and do as they please until the Sunday evening study period. Due to the heavy academic schedule, many cadets use Saturday afternoon and Sunday to complete their assignments for classes.

1st Semester:

From Labor Day on, things start to settle down, but there will be emotional ups and downs along the way. Be ready to give your support and encouragement. There may be poor grades on papers, an "F" on a quiz or a less-than-desirable grade on a WPR (Written Partial Review – equivalent to a midterm exam). At this time, the challenges seem like mountains to the students who may have never had a "C" on a paper before.

For those experiencing some problems with their studies, Additional Instruction (AI) is available. Each instructor at the Academy has only one responsibility - to help the students learn and succeed. They are available each day to provide special help to any cadet who asks. They will not come to the cadet, even when they know the cadet needs help. The cadet must request this help! Encourage your cadet to avail him or herself of this service as often as needed. Encourage them to get help EARLY - do not wait until it is too late. Members of their company may also be available to help. All the cadet has to do is ask. Asking for help is not a sign of failure or weakness but helps all students succeed and builds teamwork among classmates and in the company.

Each Plebe will have the opportunity to sign up for the West Point Mentor Program. Encourage your cadet to do so. Military personnel at West Point volunteer each year to help 3-4 cadets as personal mentors. They provide a "home away from home." This is a place where cadets can go, when invited, to relax in a family environment.

Cadets can still be a resident of their home state - be it Maryland, District of Columbia or Virginia. They should register to vote so they can vote absentee when the time comes. Call your County Clerk's office for information and the procedure for requesting applications for absentee ballots.

Looking forward to Thanksgiving leave, the Army/Navy Football Game and Christmas leave help keep the cadets going. Football weekends, if you can make them, are special times at West Point. There is energy in the atmosphere that has the Corps charged up. This is also the most beautiful time of the year as the leaves turn color and a cool crisp chill often fills the air. By the end of the first semester, Plebes have been able to work things out and learn how the system works. TEEs (Term End Exams) are taken during the final week of the semester

Labor Day Weekend:

Labor Day Weekend is a great time to visit your Plebe or for the Plebes to take their one weekend pass allowed for the semester (no pass is required for Thanksgiving leave). It is a time of relaxation, catching up on sleep, and if they stay at West Point enjoying the fact that most of the upper classmen are on leave. The Plebes with academic or fitness difficulty, disciplinary problems, or with other duties (including team work-outs) may not be granted a pass and may be restricted to Walking Privileges. The weather in New York is usually beautiful this time of year, making it a great time for a visit. Also, the Plebes are more than ready for a familiar, friendly face. The WPPC of MD-DC-VA will offer bus transportation to and from West Point for those with a pass. Bus schedules and details of how to get reservations will be published in the WPPC newsletter and on the club list server.

It should be noted that the upperclassmen are generally off-post for the Labor Day weekend, so your cadet can spend time with the family virtually hassle-free. Should you visit on this weekend and have access to a van or RV, you can plan picnics and have a place to relax. There are picnic areas along the Hudson River directly behind and below the West Point Club and others near the Alumni Center on the way to the stadium. In addition, the cadets can go into the Hotel Thayer, but not into the rooms. It isn't easy to have privacy during this weekend, but the time you spend with your cadet is more than worth it.

We cannot emphasize enough the need to make lodging reservations early. Expect the general practices for reservations/cancellations and guarantees for late arrival to be different from what you may be accustomed to in other areas. For special weekends, there is generally a two-day minimum stay and a 72-hour cancellation policy. Be sure to ask what their policy is when you make reservations. See the list of local hotels/motels below.

TIP: If you want to have brunch with your cadet at the Hotel Thayer, we suggest you call the hotel and make reservations. Without a reservation, it can be a very long wait. It should also be noted that at this brunch (which, by the way, is the best culinary event in the area) the cadets eat for a much lower price; however, please verify this with the hotel.

Columbus Day Weekend:

This is normally a three-day weekend for the cadets since Columbus Day is a Federal holiday. In years when a home football game falls on the Saturday of this weekend, the three day weekend has been known to be observed the following open weekend. Frequently Plebe Parent Weekend will serve as the 3-day weekend with upperclass Cadets leaving post while the Plebes take charge. See the club calendar for better information on leave but know that your cadet will get the official correct information. If your cadet did not come home for Labor Day, this is another opportunity for him/her to come home or get away from West Point, but this has generally been the weekend set aside as Plebe Parent Weekend.

Plebe Parent Weekend:

Plebe-Parent Weekend (PPW) is an absolute must for all parents who can possibly make it. Some years it has been concurrent with Columbus Day weekend. Alternatively, it falls close to that weekend (see Columbus Day Weekend above). During PPW, Plebes will have the opportunity to show the academy to their families and friends. You will have the opportunity to see your cadet's room and classrooms and meet their instructors and Tactical Officers (TACs). You will have the opportunity to get the "Grand Tour" of such places as the Superintendent's Quarters, the Uniform Factory, the Mess Hall, and the Cadet Store (not to be confused with the Cadet Bookstore, which is located in Thayer Hall and is open to the public). Above all, do not miss the Cadet Review (parade) or the Plebe Parent Dinner held in Washington Hall followed by the dance in Ike Hall. Tickets are required for some of these events and your cadet must order tickets or make reservations in advance. Announcements will be made, but REMIND THEM. Thousands of people come to West Point to visit their cadets. You will never be allowed to see or visit some of these facilities again. This is a once-in-a-lifetime experience. During this weekend you will be able to purchase the West Point black winter coats with the class year of your cadet at the Uniform Factory Store. Many parents purchase these souvenirs for their own use, and you will notice them all around West Point in the winter months. They are similar to a Navy P-Coat, but better! The Uniform Factory Store only takes checks! Watch for more information regarding Plebe Parent Weekend on Plebe-Net, in the club newsletters, or you may call the Plebe Parent Mentors.

During Plebe Parent Weekend, cadets are usually allowed a 75-mile radius Off Post Privileges (OPP). Therefore, if you have hotel reservations within 75 miles of West Point, your cadet should be able to visit you as long as he/she does NOT have any duties. Cadets will have to return to the barracks in the late evening. They cannot spend the night in your motel room.

Veterans' Day:

Veteran's Day is a Federal holiday. The Federal Government has resumed celebrating it on November 11th instead of the nearest weekend. Although there aren't any classes scheduled, your cadet's free time will be governed by cadet duties and/or their need to study. Check with your cadet before making any plans to visit.

Thanksgiving Leave:

This is a great time to celebrate, to give thanks for what is possibly the first visit home for your cadet since "R-day." Cadets are released at the end of their duty (after last class) on Wednesday. Plebes are due back at 7:00 p.m. on Sunday. Be sure to make transportation reservations early. This leave is a Superintendent's leave. He grants this leave and it is not charged to the cadets. Our WPPC sponsors a bus providing round trip transportation for the cadets in our area for this holiday. If your cadet is bringing someone home for Thanksgiving, that cadet is also welcome to ride the bus at the club member price.

For major holidays, West Point contracts with a private bus company to provide bus transportation to major airports for a fee. If your cadet is going to fly home, he/she will need to arrange transportation to the area airports. A local bus company provides service to Hudson Valley (formerly Stewart) Newark, LaGuardia and JFK airports. Ticket sales are generally held 10-days before the start of the break. Prior to the holidays there will be announcements at school and on the Plebe- and Parent-Nets. Cadets must be very specific about which airport they are using because they will not be able to buy tickets from the bus driver on the day of their departure. This holds true for all ground and air travel to and from West Point for all holidays. Sharing a taxi may be a workable alternative.

Should your cadet get to the airport earlier than the scheduled flight, he/she can usually be "wait-listed" on the next flight out and has a good chance to get on the earlier flight with no trouble. Be advised that if they are successful in this, they must reconfirm their return flight – there have been instances of the return flight being canceled if the cadet did not travel on their originally scheduled flight. For parents who want to drive to West Point to pick up their cadet, the cadets are often able to leave shortly after noon the Wednesday before Thanksgiving. Check with your cadet to find out when he/she will be able to leave and agree on a meeting place. The statues located around "The Plain" make an easily recognizable meeting place. However, do not pick the Eisenhower statue as everyone uses that one! There are also trains, which leave from Garrison Station, across the Hudson from West Point, which go to New York for connecting trains and buses. To use this option, the cadets need to arrange to share a taxi or get a ride to and from the station. The total cost for the taxi could be over $25 one-way, so sharing is a good way to minimize the cost. Taxis or limos to/from West Point and the airports can be very expensive.

ARMY NAVY Football Game:

Army / Navy is the oldest collegiate football rivalry in the nation. This game is traditionally played on the weekend following Thanksgiving Weekend. The first game was played in 1890 on the Plain at West Point following a challenge by Cadet Dennis Mahan Michie. Our club will arrange a tailgate after the game (watch the newsletter and club's web sit for details) and reserves a block of rooms at a nearby hotel. GO ARMY BEAT NAVY!!! A historical note: The first game of the 1924 season was played in the new Michie Stadium at West Point (Army 17 - St. Louis University 0).

Winter Leave:

Remember that Winter leave time is one of the busiest travel times of the year - MAKE TRAVEL ARRANGEMENTS EARLY. TEEs are scheduled according to the class schedules. Winter leave is normally scheduled to begin on Friday of the week before Christmas week. Cadet's can leave following their last TEE, though some cadets are unlucky enough to have a Saturday TEE, in which case, they can't leave until after it. If your cadet needs to fly home, the safest option is to schedule a flight late in the day because it is impossible to predict each cadet's leave time until about a week before. By then, it is too late to get reasonable tickets at the times you want.

Winter leave is personal travel, so travel arrangements are left to the individual cadet, but they can use the on-post travel office. WPPC again sponsors a bus to the D.C. area. There are usually three buses – one leaving Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday afternoons of exam week. The club also sponsors buses returning to West Point after the Winter leave. Details on how to make the necessary arrangements are published in the newsletter, on the list server, or you can e-mail the Club's Transportation Coordinator.

Birthday and Christmas gift suggestions for a Plebe with a limited lifestyle are listed below. Excellent buys for some of these items are available to cadets at the Cadet Store.

1. Stereo, radio, CD player and tapes and CDs. (Each company makes their own rules concerning use of radios, stereos, etc.)
2. Camera

3. A new watch, battery powered alarm clock, rechargeable electric razor - to replace the old ones from Beast
4. Phone cards
5. Silk or Polypropylene Long Underwear – It gets cold standing in formation on the Plain.
6. A picture-book frame (that stands on a desk and can be opened to store many photos)
7. Electric fan
8. Computer accessories and supplies: diskettes, DVD's, speakers, etc. (items not supplied as part of their standard computer issue).
9. Gift certificate for brunch at the Thayer Hotel or gift certificates for local restaurants

Remember to have your son bring his full dress uniform, or your daughter her dress mess, home because we hope you and your cadet will attend the Joint Service Academy Ball (JSAB) over the Winter break. The JSAB is held the end of December and is the only social event for this region for the talented young men and women and their parents who attend our nation's service academies. The service academies are the US Military Academy, the US Naval Academy, the US Air Force Academy, the US Coast Guard Academy, and the US Merchant Marine Academy. Each year one of the Parents Clubs hosts the event. It is a fun evening and quite spectacular with all the cadets and midshipmen in their dress uniforms. There is a monthly update on the planning and preparation for the JSAB in the club newsletter.

The hardest farewell often comes when your Plebe returns to West Point after the first Winter leave. The time spent home is so much fun and the freedom feels so good. It is tough going back to the regimentation where everything, including the weather, is so very gray. This time is aptly referred to as, "Gloom Period."

2nd Semester:

Winter Reorgy Week:

The cadets prepare for the second semester. They get new books, rooms, roommates, and homework assignments.

Martin Luther King's Birthday Weekend:

If your cadet were able to take a pass, it would begin following the completion of their last duty on the Friday before the weekend.

Valentine's Boodle Bash:

The Annual Boodle Bash is held on the Sunday before Valentine's Day. The WPPC will ask members to bake goodies, buy snacks and/or donate money to purchase "boodle" to be brought up to the cadets at West Point. On this day, parents gather with their goodies at a member's home and boxes are packed for each company at West Point. More than 100 boxes (copier paper size boxes) are packed and volunteer parents take them to West Point. Boxes are distributed to each company and other places such as the Provost Marshall's office, each Chapel (even Kosher boxes for the Temple) and to the Hospital. This is a wonderful way to bring some cheer to the cadets during the "Gloom Period."

President's Weekend:

This is a three-day weekend with no classes on Monday. Depending on their performance, a cadet may be able to take leave at this time. This is the only three-day weekend this semester with Parent Club bus availability.

Spring Break:

Like every other college and university, West Point has a weeklong spring break. Spring Break generally begins on Friday after their last class/duty and it will end at 7:00 p.m. on the Sunday of the following week. Again, there will be a Parent Club Bus.

2nd Semester Term End Exams (TEEs):

Congratulations! The cadets are now on their way to being all they can be mentally, physically and emotionally. They have withstood the test and they can be proud. The cadets may be able to take TEE leave following their last exam, but usually need to be back Sunday night before Graduation Week.

Plebe Promotion:

Promotion is a special ceremony for Plebes and TAC officers only. This is the time when the Plebes (Privates) are promoted to Private First Class. The Plebes are treated a bit better and have a few more privileges. As of the printing of this Guidebook the exact date has not been publicized, however in recent years it has been in the morning of graduation day, coinciding with their rising to the Yearling class. The atmosphere becomes a little more relaxed and Plebes now really feel they're a part of the Corps. One of the biggest hurdles of the four years is over. The phone call you receive the night of Promotion will give you insight into how special this was for your cadet. This is definitely a high point in the Plebe year.

Graduation Week:

Graduation Week begins immediately follows 2nd Semester TEE Week and culminates with Graduation on that Saturday. This is an exceptionally busy time for all the cadets. For the Firsties, getting ready to check out of West Point and move on to their assignments. For the rest of the classes, they're getting ready for the graduation activities, mostly parade practice, and for their summer assignments. Immediately following graduation, each class "rises" to the next class, i.e. Cows are now Firsties, Yearlings become Cows, and the Plebes are Yearlings.

Cadets MUST remain at West Point until after the graduation exercises have been concluded. Cadets will probably be released between noon and 2:00 p.m. The Parents Club bus will be southbound only – not roundtrip since Cadets go back to West Point a variety of times.

Summer Training

Between the Plebe and Yearling years, cadets are required to attend Cadet Field Training held at Camp Buckner on the West Point reservation. After a break of about three weeks, the cadets will report to Camp Buckner for individual, squad and platoon level tactical training. During the second part of the training, cadets will receive orientations to the various branches of the Army, which are designed to assist them in making their branch selections when they are Firsties. Part of this phase includes a trip lasting several days to Fort Knox, Kentucky for training with tanks and artillery.

Part III - Handy Tips and Sage Advice

Maps

The Visitor's Center and Museum just off post in Highland Falls and the Military Police Station at the Main Gate have very good maps to help you get around the campus and close by area of West Point. A book map of Orange County, available at some local stores, shows the entire West Point Military Reservation including Lake Frederick, Round Pond and Camp Buckner. You can download and print maps from <http://www.usma.edu/visiting.asp>.

Security

Because of the threat of terrorism, security at West Point and all military installations has been heightened. Security measures can change depending upon the threat level, so be flexible with your plans when visiting West Point. Generally, vehicles without DoD (Department of Defense) stickers will require a picture ID of the driver (though it is always a good idea for every occupant in the vehicle to always have a picture ID with them) and a search of the vehicle. Everyone, occasionally you will also require vehicle registration and proof of insurance. West Point security information is located on the USMA web site, <http://www.usma.edu/>

Telephone Privileges

It will be a few weeks before New Cadets will be allowed to call home. The first call home is usually filled with emotions and is sometimes a real "downer." This is normal! The cadets have had it with standing in lines, learning Plebe Knowledge, getting haircuts, testing, and the whole thing! It may be the worst experience of their lives at this point. After the first call it may be several weeks before your new cadet will be able to call again.

TIP: Allow them to do all the talking they want. Often, this is all they need to do - talk about how things are - in order to get the frustration and homesickness off their chests. Acknowledge their frustration and be supportive. Parents also need support. This is a hard summer for you also! Please feel free to call members of the Parents Club. We have been there and know what you are going through - unlike those who are not experiencing a child going to the Military Academy.

Encouragement and support is what the new cadets need most from you. Do not be discouraged if another parent tells you they have heard from their Plebe, while you haven't. Assignments and free times differ greatly. Be positive and be a good listener.

Notify your new cadet about times you think you will be away from home. Decide on good times for calls and then make every effort to keep phone lines open and be there for the calls. With so little free time, it is very disheartening to get a busy signal when a new cadet needs a lift from hearing Mom or Dad's voice. Call waiting is a good feature to add to your phone service at this time, as is an answering machine for those times when you just cannot be there. Keep a pencil and note pad handy to write down questions you will have and to jot down things you will want to share with the rest of the family, friends, and anyone who will listen!

Once the academic year begins, your cadet will have a phone in his/her room. Personal phones in the barracks were installed in the fall of 1998, making communication with your cadet much easier than it had been in the past. Basic telephone service is provided as part of a package of electronic services. West Point charges cadets a nominal monthly fee for the package that includes dial tone phone service, Internet access and cable TV service to their computers. Cadets receive a separate monthly billing from Campus-Link, the telephone service provider, for any long distance calls. They will be responsible for all long distance charges on their number. Dialing out privileges are suspended if the account falls in arrears.

In recent years word has circulated that all cadets will be issued cell phones. Rumor was that this was delayed to allow cellular service providers to build towers on post to make service more available. These stories may be true and there may come a time when cadets are provided cell phones, but all the circulated information (fact or fiction) has included the points that long distance service on the cell phones will be the cadets financial responsibility and that New Cadets would not have this privilege until after Beast. That being said, the vast majority of cadets have a cell phone on their own plan or on their parent's plan.

Letters

Keep them coming - especially Plebe year! Funny, encouraging, upbeat greeting cards are a good idea anytime. Be sure to use plain white envelopes rather than the colored ones or ones with drawings or words on them during Beast Summer. MAKE SURE your mail is addressed to "New Cadet <first and last name>" during Beast. After the Acceptance Parade in August, address mail to "Cadet <first and last name>." It was that first name was frowned upon until after Plebe year but there can be a few others with the same last name and the post office prefers full name. Make sure everyone (friends, family, everyone) follows these guidelines to save your cadet any grief as a result of mail. A good rule of thumb - white stationery and a stamp that has an U.S. flag on it. Stay away from colors and heart or flowers on stamps. Your cadet is trying to blend in. Keep the letters positive and encourage your cadet to think in positive terms. Emphasize taking each day one at a time. Urge them not to take the harassment personally and tell them to maintain a sense of humor. Don't enclose a photo, stick of gum, or a Band-Aid for blistered feet until after Acceptance Day. Get some address labels or an address stamp for your cadet and send some pre-addressed and stamped envelopes with your address for ease of mailing. At the end of this section is a sample humorous letter sent to a Plebe during beast. You might want to copy this, change it to best suit your cadet, and send it to your cadet to see the responses you will get!

Do not expect too many letters. Plebes will be ordered to write the first one (it's required) and after that they are toooooo busy. They are assigned Post Office boxes, but checking and finding "air" (no mail) is very discouraging. Try to send as many letters and as much candy, cookies, snacks, etc. as humanly possible throughout the first academic year – but remember, no boodle until after Acceptance Day.

Boodle (Care Packages)

DO NOT send boodle until told by your cadet that he/she is allowed to receive it (usually after Acceptance Day). Even a single stick of chewing gum in a letter during Beast can cause extreme anguish with disciplinary actions. Send the first boodle (food) in an airtight container such as Tupperware or other storage containers found at most variety stores, so your Plebe will have a place to store future boodle. If you are able to be at West Point for the Acceptance Day weekend, you may want to make a boodle run to one of the stores in Highland Falls or to the Post Exchange and Commissary (grocery store). You should also be able to find appropriate boodle boxes. Suggested items include cookies, candy, raisins, nuts, individual packets of drink mixes, trail mix, etc. Newspaper articles of interest to your cadet and cartoons are always welcome. There are several "boodle providers" listed in the Around West Point section of this handbook and new ones open yearly. For an up-to-date list of local boodlers see the Parent Forum Web Site at <http://www.west-point.org/parent/parent-forum/>. Send small but frequent packages rather than large ones because space in their room is limited. Mail them UPS, Federal Express (FedEx), or U.S. Postal Service. Shipping times and rates vary, so check with the different services in your area for more information. Some parents have found it easier to subscribe to an Internet stamp service such as (stamps.com) to facilitate mailings to their cadet. UPS and FedEx packages are delivered directly to the Central Guard Room, from where your cadet can pick it up. The address for the Central Guard Room is:

CDT (First Name Last Name), (year of graduation), (Company)
C/O: CENTRAL GUARD ROOM
USCC, United States Military Academy
West Point, NY 10996

Cadet Finances

Monthly paychecks will be deposited directly to your cadet's bank account. Any bounced check will cause extreme anguish (demerits and extra duty) so remind your cadet to be very careful with check writing. They do not have much money in their accounts the first year so a little extra money for snacks and the rare trip away from the post will be appreciated. The Pentagon Federal Credit Union operates a branch in the cadet area plus a branch just outside Thayer Gate, both of which offer a full range of financial services including ATMs. This may be more convenient than a hometown account. Another option is USAA, which is also located just outside Thayer gate.

Other Tips and Advice

Be prepared for at least one letter or phone call telling you that your cadet wants to quit. This may happen particularly right after your Plebe has had some contact with a friend at another college who tells your cadet about all the free time, parties, and lack of rules and regulations. This may also be brought on by frequent contact with unfeeling upperclassmen.

When the problem arises, you may need to remind your son or daughter (and yourself) of the advantages he/she has now and will have in the future:

- Acquiring the discipline to follow orders.
- Having the responsibility and privilege of leading soldiers.
- Experiencing the challenge of an unparalleled academic schedule.
- Having a student-teacher ratio that is unequaled in any other college.
- Using incredible athletic facilities and participating in a variety of sports.
- Traveling to places around the country and around the world.
- Getting paid while going to school.
- Having clothes provided with no worries about what to wear.
- Credentials that instantly evoke pride, prestige, honor and patriotism.
- Forever being a part of the history of this great nation "The Long Gray Line."

Be sympathetic and flexible. Try to get your cadet to give it one more day or week! Quitting is a serious decision; there is no second chance. Remember - one day at a time! Sometimes - during Beast - it can even be one meal at a time! Remember that all cadets will receive extensive counseling before they are allowed to resign.

Encourage your cadet to participate in clubs plus social and athletic activities and to be an active supporter of the Corps. Encourage them to continue any religious practices. Being involved in activities outside of their academics gives them a chance to "decompress" and feel like a real person instead of "just" a Plebe.

Keep in mind at all times that Plebe year is a very stressful time, but there are times set aside for fun and parties. It is amazing to see a Plebe who literally hates West Point but who decides to stick it out for a while, become a major leader and defender of the system. But also remember that West Point is not for everyone. Your Plebe may not be the type to succeed there. If you sense problems, talk with other parents; you may find others with similar problems who have found something that helped them. West Point chaplains are a resource that may also be of help.

You do not need to worry about medical attention for your Plebe at West Point. They have excellent facilities and if the problem is serious, he/she will be sent to Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington, D.C. If there is a problem, you will be notified. If you are concerned about your cadet's mental or physical health, call the TAC; however, use this only for real emergencies. Some parents feel that they must contact the TAC for any minor issue; this results in undue and unwanted attention on that cadet. While home on leave, your cadet is authorized medical care at any military facility or at any hospital, but only for a medical emergency.

If there is a family emergency, you can contact the TAC. You can also call the Central Guard Room (open 24 hours/day) at (845) 938-2555. If you get a busy signal, keep trying. You will get through.

Many parents try to visit West Point during the football season to take in a football game and see their cadet. It is very important to book your accommodations well in advance. If after calling a hotel from an out of town line you are told there are no vacancies, you might try to call from a local line, since some of the hotels reserve a few rooms for local customers. Reservations can be difficult in Highland Falls, but there are plenty of good accommodations within a thirty to forty-five minute drive. See the list of hotels and motels in this handbook.

Summary

You must constantly reinforce the positive with your cadet. Never let them lose sight of their objective. Your cadet is joining the oldest military institution in the United States from which the likes of Lee, Grant, MacArthur, Stillwell, Eisenhower, and Patton have all graduated. This is not just a college education. This is an all-encompassing process through which the leaders of the 21st century are developed to be all around leaders. REMEMBER, no one at West Point wants your Plebe to fail!!

Nothing comes without sacrifice and your son/daughter will make sacrifices during their years at West Point. The reward is overwhelming in the sense of pride and accomplishment. That pride cannot be taken away from them. They have paid the price and when they walk up to get that diploma on graduation day - no one can take away the fact that they have joined the LONG GRAY LINE.

Another Wonderful Resource

The West Point Parents Club of West Point publishes The Sourcebook for West Point Parents each year. It is a large book filled with a wide array of information on a multitude of subjects concerning cadets and academy life, schedules, etc. For information about obtaining a copy of this book, please see the order form at the end of this Handbook.

Below is a sample letter from a New Cadet sent during Beast. Although quite humorous, the information you will receive might answer several of your questions about the experiences your New Cadet is having at the same time allowing for minimal response time from your New Cadet.

Hotel, Motel, and Tourism Information

Below is a partial list of Motels/Hotels in the West Point area. Additional information about the facilities can be viewed at the following URL: <http://www.west-point.org/parent/wppc-ne-ohio/Motels.htm>. No descriptions will be given here in the interest of brevity, except for the Five Star Inn that is Army Lodging. One thing to remember is that even if the motel has some negative comments at the URL site listed above, there are times, especially during Plebe year, when staying within the walking privileges area may be more important than a “perfect” motel. The motels are listed by approximate distance from West Point beginning with the closest.

Five Star Inn – The Five Star Inn is the Army’s lodging facility on post. Active duty or retired military are authorized to rent rooms. Cadets are also authorized to rent rooms for their family members or adult family friends. Parents of cadets may rent rooms with a copy of their cadet’s military ID card. Reservations may be made no more than one month in advance. Over the summer, it is almost impossible to reserve a room as military with orders (i.e. permanent change of station, etc.) have priority. It is also extremely difficult to get reservations for major weekends (Plebe Parent Weekend, football weekends, etc.). But, if you are going to be visiting West Point at an “off” time, definitely try it out. There are two locations – one on post and one off post. The off post facility is much nicer, but the on post facility is currently being renovated. The prices are VERY reasonable. Call for more detailed information: 845-938-6816.

Area Shopping

Below are directions to some of the major shopping centers or malls in the area around West Point.

WALMART (Newburgh): Take Rt. 9W North. Drive approximately 6.5 miles on Rt. 9W North from the point where Rt. 218 veers off toward the West Point Golf Course. At 7.1 miles take exit off 9W marked “Cornwall”, “Storm King Art Center” and “H” (for hospital). At end of ramp turn left. At the traffic light at the end of the road, turn right onto Rt. 32. When the road widens for the next traffic light (by McDonalds at “Five Corners”), get into the left lane. Go straight through that intersection (you are on Rt. 300) toward Stewart Airport. At the third traffic light, turn right and continue for about one mile to next light. Take a left turn into the Wal-Mart parking lot.

MIDDLETOWN GALLERIA: Take Rt. 9W North. Take Rt. 293 by the Golf Course (toward Central Valley). Travel approximately 8-9 miles through Camp Buckner area to join Rt. 6 West. You will go down a long hill. Rt. 6 flows into Rt. 17 West toward Middletown. When you get to Middletown area and cross over I-84, you will see the mall immediately to your right. Take the next exit onto Rt. 211, turning right at the light at the bottom of the ramp. Continue on for about ¾ mile to the Galleria entrance (on the right). A Wal-Mart and a Sam’s Club are in front of the Galleria complex.

WOODBURY COMMON (Outlets): Take Rt. 9W North. Take Rt. 293 by the Golf Course (toward Central Valley). Travel approximately 8-9 miles through Camp Buckner area to join Rt. 6 West. At the bottom of the long hill on Rt. 6, you will see signs for the New York State Thruway and Rt. 32 North. Bear right onto Rt. 32 North and go about ¾ mile to Woodbury Common entrance, on right. CAREFULLY watch out for signs at the entrance and exits, which can be confusing with a lot of traffic in a very small area.

MONROE SUPER WALMART: Follow the directions for Woodbury Commons to the bottom of the hill on Rt. 6. Take the same right exit at the bottom, after you go over the New York Thruway, but at the traffic light at the end of the exit ramp, bear left and IMMEDIATELY get into the right lane. As you now go under Rt. 6, make a right at Melody Lane (adjoining Woodbury Chevrolet). The Super Wal-Mart will be on your left a ways down Melody Lane.

PALISADES MALL IN WEST NYACK: Take Rt. 9W South toward the Bear Mountain traffic circle. As you approach the circle, you will see the entrance to the Palisades Parkway (south). Travel south-bound on the Palisades Parkway, and after about 15 miles start looking for signs for I-287. Take the exit to I-287 East. Take the Palisades Center Drive exit to the mall.

NANUET MALL: Follow the directions to the Palisades Mall. Drive south past the I-287 exit to the exit for Rt. 59 West. The Nanuet Mall is about 2 miles on the left.

SAM’S CLUB / SUPER WALMART (Fishkill): Take Rt. 9W North (toward Newburgh). Follow 9W North through Newburgh to the Newburgh-Beacon Bridge. Take I-84 east over the bridge. There is a toll for cars or EZPass can be used. Continue to third exit past toll booths, Rt. 9 North (Fishkill). At bottom of exit ramp, turn left at the light and continue on for about ¾ mile. Wal-Mart, with Sam’s Club behind it, will be on the left. There is also a small mall and Mobil gas station located in front.

POUGHKEEPSIE GALLERIA / SOUTH HILLS MALL: Follow directions as above for Sam’s Club / Wal-Mart in Fishkill, but continue north on Rt. 9 for about 6 miles. Both malls will be on your left, interconnected by parking lots. South Hills is the first on the left, with the entrance to the large and newer Galleria at the second, third and fourth lights up from the front of South Mills Mall, at the Vassar Road intersection. Watch signs very carefully – there are small strip malls in front of part of the frontage to the Galleria. One entrance has a strip mall with a Bugaboo Creek Steak House in it. The next entrance is just several hundred feet beyond that, and the third entrance is a left turn at a light by a GMC auto dealership. Go a few hundred feet, then turn left again into the mall parking lot.

Computer Information Get Connected!

Cadet Email

USMA will assign your cadet an e-mail account. It may be your primary means of communication with your cadet, so if you do not currently have an Internet Service Provider (ISP) or access to e-mail, you may want to consider it. E-mail and AOL Instant Messaging (see next page) are the easiest ways to hear anything from your very busy cadet. Ask your cadet for their email address.

West Point Parent List Servers

As a parent of a cadet, you have access to a special "Parent-Net" called the Parent Forum on WP-ORG. The electronic forum is a private list server for USMA parents and grads (but it does NOT include cadets). The moderators communicate informative and timely information that you will otherwise be in the dark about (updated schedules, news, etc.) because your cadet is too busy to communicate with you or does not know (through no fault of their own). A question and answer dialogue is also available. Parents of Plebes can join "Plebe-Net" which is for parents of Plebes, surprise! Moderators also oversee this site. It can be a life saver during Beast Barracks! There is so much timely information and sharing of worries, etc.

There are no fees associated with this Parent Forum; however there are semi-annual donation drives to obtain funds for the operation and equipment required by WP-ORG.

If you HAVE web access, you may subscribe to the Parent Forum by going to: <http://www.west-point.org/parent/parent-forum/>. To join Plebe-Net go to: <http://www.west-point.org/parent/plebe-net/>. On the screen, click "Subscribe now" and complete the required information. Click on "submit" and you will be enrolled!

If you do NOT have web access, but you DO have e-mail, you may subscribe to the Parent-Net by sending an e-mail to: parent-forum-owner@west-point.org. In your e-mail include the word "Subscribe" in your subject line. In the body of the note include your last name; your first name; cadet graduating year, and your e-mail address.

A "digest" version of the postings is offered which includes all mail from the forum for that day. The digest" may be a good option because the volume of mail can get quite heavy.

WPPC MD-DC-VA Web Site

The web site for the WPPC of MD-DC-VA is www.wppc-mdcva.org. This is a very effective form of communication for our club, and we hope our members will use this additional resource. The newsletters are posted periodically on the web site as well as many additional photos and information. Members can also print the forms required to reserve a bus ticket, membership application, and Parent Social events (i.e. dinners). The pictures are in color and can be printed or downloaded for your own use. The photo album contains many pictures from events from last year. This is a good place to preview events that will be happening this year. There is plenty of space to allow our club to post many, many pictures, so be sure to share your memories by forwarding your pictures to the webmasters.

Come and visit the site. We look forward to any comments you may have!

WPPC MD-DC-VA List Server

Our club maintains a list server through the West Point Organization. This list server enables communication among our members, both broadcast and direct. Members can sign up by going to: <http://www.west-point.org/parent/wppccapdist>. Click on the "Subscribe Now" located on the left side of the page and complete the form. This will be forwarded to the moderator who will add you to our list server. Once you are on the list, you can broadcast messages to all members of our club who have registered. Address your message to wppc-capdist@west-point.org. Remember that messages posted to this address are sent to more than 200 families. Postings on this list server are limited to our club business or regionally targeted messages; i.e. ride share to/from WP to the Maryland Virginia area or special USMA events in this area.

The list serve can also be used to send blind text email messages to individual subscribed members of our club. This is linked to the WPPC home page (www.wppc-mdcva.org). Simply click on the blind email hyperlink on the left side of the page and you will be directed to a site listing all the members with registered email addresses. Select the name you wish to contact, click on "contact" and you will be able to send an email message to that individual.

AOL Instant Messenger

As fast as Email is, the Internet also provides more immediate communication channels through personal chat programs. The easiest to use is the AOL Instant Messenger Program (<http://www.aim.com/index.adp>). This is freeware and available to anyone on line, not just AOL subscribers. This software allows you to have a 1-on-1 chat with someone, or allows you to create your own chatroom from your "buddy list." Those online at the same time and also logged into instant messenger can "chat." (This happens automatically when you both sign in.) You can easily put together buddy lists based on the email addresses of people you know. If you have a few cadets on your buddy list, you will find they are signed on for hours on end. This is because they automatically launch the program when they start their computers and since they are always logged into the West Point network, which is always connected to the Internet. If they are not on their computers but logged in, the program will show that the buddy is inactive and for how long.

The cadet's free time is limited so do not expect long "conversations" and be understanding if they are too busy. They can leave a message to let you know they are too busy to "talk." But, it can be a wonderful way to touch base and also can be a good outlet for the cadet to tell of good things happening or to "vent" if they have had a bad day.

This is the best NO COST way to communicate with your cadet. Since cadets are almost always signed in, it is easy to drop a quick note to say hello. If the cadet is very busy, he/she may just leave a message or sign off so as not to be disturbed.

WPPC MD-DC-VA Cadet Bus Service

I. GENERAL:

- A. Through our Transportation Coordinator(s) (list with the WPPC Board Members), WPPC provides economical bus transportation services for our cadets to come home on selected long weekends and holidays. Departure/arrival times are set in conjunction with official release/reporting times set by USMA.
- B. The pick-up/drop-off point at USMA is generally in the parking lot by Clinton Field (behind the bleachers).
- C. The bus has four destinations along Interstate 95:
 - 1. Baltimore Travel Plaza in Baltimore, MD
 - 2. Laurel Rest Area along I-95 in MD
 - 3. Springfield Mall, VA
 - 4. Spotsylvania Mall in Fredericksburg, VA.
- D. Notices about upcoming buses, reservations, and coordinating information are disseminated through the WPPC List Server email from the Transportation Coordinator(s). If you are not a member of the WPPC or do not have an email address on the List Server, you will not get notifications.

II. RESERVATION GUIDELINES:

- A. Bus service is chartered based on reservations. To make a reservation, email the following information to the Transportation Coordinator(s): name(s) of cadet(s), cadet's Company and year, drop-off or pick-up location, and parent's name and home phone number. Checks should be mailed as soon as the reservation is made. Postmarks will determine reservation order in case the requests exceed the number of seats.
- B. PLEASE notify the Transportation Coordinator if your cadet decides not to ride the bus.
- C. Refunds (or credit for a future ride) are allowed if the coordinator is notified before the scheduled bus departure time.
- D. If there are SIGNIFICANT changes, delays, etc. to the bus schedule, you will be notified by email or phone as appropriate.

III. STOP LOCATIONS: (You can generally follow bus progress by watching email reports.)

- A. Baltimore Travel Plaza is just north of Ft. McHenry tunnel off I-95. The bus stops in front of the bus terminal that is attached to the Best Western Inn.
- B. Laurel, MD, Rest Area is along I-95 about 5 miles north of the DC beltway, I-495. Coming south from West Point, the bus will stop on the SOUTHBOUND side rest area. For the return trip, heading north to West Point, the bus will stop on the NORTHBOUND side rest area. The bus will use the truck area to park. Be sure to look for the bus! If you park in the car parking area, you may miss the bus!
- C. Springfield, VA stop is in front of the Springfield Hilton Hotel, which is across from the Springfield Shopping Mall.
- D. Fredericksburg, VA stop is in Spotsylvania Mall in front of the general area of Ruby Tuesday's on the Route 3 side entrance – western most corner.

“THE ALMA MATER”

Hail, Alma Mater Dear, To help us be ever near.

Help us thy motto bear Through all the years.

Let Duty be well performed.

Honor be e'er untarned.

Country be ever armed.

West Point, by thee.

Guide us, thy sons, aright, Teach us by day, by night,

Keep thine honor bright, For thee to fight.

When we depart from thee, Serving on land or sea,

May we still loyal be, West Point, to thee.

And when our work is done, Our course on earth is run,

May it be said, “Well done:

Be thou at peace.”

E'er may that line of gray Increase from day to day

Live, serve, and die, we pray West Point, for thee.

“Alma Mater,” the most beloved of all West Point songs has its beginnings in a very inauspicious manner. In the fall of 1908, Cadet P.S. Reinecke attempted to write a furlough song in an effort to pass some time while walking the area. Finally, he began to march to the tune of “Treuebeliebe,” an old favorite composed by Kuecken in 1827. Reinecke gradually developed the words to what we know today as the “Alma Mater.”

The song, however, died the death of all furlough songs and was not even sung at the graduation of Reinecke's class in 1911. But on 9 June 1912, “Alma Mater” was sung at the Baccalaureate Service and took its place as a musical expression of feelings of every West Pointer toward his alma mater.

THE ARMY SONG

First to fight, For the right,
And to build the Nations might,
And the Army goes rolling along.
Proud of all we have done,
Fighting till the battle's won
And the Army goes rolling along

(Refrain)

Then it's Hi! Hi! Hey!
The Army on it's way.
Count off the cadence loud and strong,
(TWO! THREE!)
For Wher - e'er we go, you will always know,
That the Army goes rolling along.

Valley Forge, Custer's ranks,
San Juan Hill and Patton's tanks,
And the Army went rolling along
Minute men, from the start,
Always fighting from the heart,
And the Army keeps rolling along.

(Refrain)

Men in rags, men who froze,
Still that Army met its foes,
And the Army went rolling along.
Faith in God, then we're right,
And we'll fight with all our might,
As the Army keeps rolling along.

(Refrain)

Attending an Army Football game can be a great opportunity to visit with your cadet and enjoy a beautiful fall weekend at West Point. It is best to work through your cadet to obtain tickets for a game, as seating is reserved for cadet guests near the cadet cheering section. Have your cadet get the tickets as soon as possible. You can often also find tickets available for sale from other parents over the Parent-Forum. Parking can be a BIG problem, so plan on allowing plenty of time to locate a spot, then plan a great tailgate party while waiting for the game to begin. Prior to home games (weather permitting) there are cadet reviews on the Plain in front of Washington Hall. Call or email the Special Projects Chairperson for more information.
